Information & Communications Redesigns Web Site for VoicePlus, Inc.

Scottsdale, Ariz., February, 2003

ICS a Arizona based IT solutions provider who designs, develops, implements and maintains information systems, networks, web sites, e-commerce systems, databases and custom software launched a revamped Web site for VoicePlus, Inc. VoicePlus' corporate headquarters is in Roseville, CA with offices throughout the United States. ICS created a Web site that is easy to navigate and highly responsive to all users. Jim Gillespie, President of VoicePlus, Inc. stated "I am very pleased with the Web site's clean new look, and overall functionality. It was a pleasure working with ICS to get this site up and on-line. We look forward to working with them as we continue to develop enhancements."
